

| RatingCategory                           | Excellent (9-10)  | Good (6-8)   | Fair (3-5)  | Poor (1-2)   |
|--|---|--|---|--|
| 1. Project Description (10 points)           | The proposal identifies a motivating idea, problem, and/or question. It presents a clear project design with specificity about procedures and methods, including the analytic approach.   | The proposal identifies a motivating idea, problem, and/or question and provides a general outline of project activities that includes procedures and methods.                                 | The proposal does not identify a motivating idea/problem/question, and/or does not outline the proposed project activities.   | The proposal does not identify a motivating idea/problem/question, nor outline the proposed project activities. It is not clear that the student understands the work to be completed. |
| 2. Significance(10 points)               | The proposal includes a synthesis of existing, related research or creative work. It is clear how the project fits into the broader scholarly or creative field.  | The proposal summarizes relevant research or creative work. It is clear how the project fits into the broader scholarly or creative field at the local (UConn) level.                          | The proposal references some related work. A link is suggested between the project and a broader scholarly or creative field, but it is not clearly stated.                                   | The proposal demonstrates inadequate awareness of related work. The relationship between the project and a broader scholarly or creative field is not articulated.                     |
| 3. Goals andOutcomes(10 points)      | The goals of the project are clearly stated. Specific products (presentations, publications, or other appropriate outcomes) are described and seem attainable.  | The goals of the project are clearly stated. Products (presentations, publications, or other appropriate outcomes) are identified, but little detail is provided.                              | Project goals are referenced, but could be stated more clearly. Products are described only vaguely and/or seem unattainable.   | The goals of the project are not clearly stated. Products are not described.   |
| 4. Feasibility(10 points)                | Budget is clear and appropriate forthe project. Timeline is feasible,detailed, and consistent withactivities described.   | Budget is clear and appropriate forthe project. Timeline lacks somedetail but project is manageable inthe time frame described.  | Budget may lack detail. Timeline does not correspond to proposed activities or does not allocate sufficient time for some activities.   | Budget lacks detail or is inappropriate for the project. Timeline is unsuitable and/or unrealistic for activities described.   |
| 5. ApplicationQuality (10 points)        | Application materials are well written and well organized. The project is understandable to a professional outside of the discipline.   | Application materials are generally well written and well organized, but the application includes some jargon or is sometimes hard to understand for a professional outside of the discipline. | Application materials are not written well and/or not organized well. The project is not easily understandable to a professional outside of the discipline.                                   | Application materials are hard to understand and may use much field-specific jargon. It may not be clear that the student wrote the materials him/herself.                             |
| 6. FacultyRecommendations(10 points) | Recommenders provide a positive assessment of the significance of the project and its educational value for the student. Letters include a positive assessment of the student's ability to undertake the project. A plan for supervision and mentorship is described. | Recommendations provide a positive assessment of the student, the project proposed, and the educational value for the student. There is evidence that mentoring will be provided.              | Recommendations include a positive assessment of the student but do not address the project or the student's ability to successfully undertake the proposed project. Role of mentor is vague. | Recommendations focus on student's academic performance and do not indicate knowledge of or support of the proposed project. Mentorship is not addressed.                              |

| Rating Category   | Excellent (9-10)  | Good (6-8)   | Fair (3-5)  | Poor (1-2)  |
|---|---|--|---|---|
| 7. Student Role inProject(10 points)              | Student had creative input in the project's development. Student will play a central role in project activities, including analysis and dissemination of findings.  | Student will play a central role in project activities, including analysis and dissemination of findings.  | Student plays an important role in project activities, but will not be involved in analysis or dissemination of findings.   | Student is mainly an observer or data collector. Student will not be involved in analysis or dissemination of findings.   |
| 8. StudentQualifications(10 points)               | The student is well qualified and prepared to carry out the project.  | The student has sufficient knowledge and preparation to carry out the project.   | The student's qualifications, preparation and knowledge on the subject are not clear or may be insufficient to carry out the project.   | The application does not demonstrate sufficient background knowledge or qualifications to successfully engage in the project.   |
| 9. ProjectSignificance for theStudent (10 points) | Application demonstrates significance of the project to the student's academic studies, future professional aspirations, and/or personal goals. The student's life experience, background, and/or goals indicate high potential for the summer experience to be transformative. | Application explains how the work will benefit the student's academic studies, future professional aspirations, and/or personal goals. The student's life experience, background, and/or goals suggest the potential for the summer experience to be transformative. | Application does not make a clear connection between the project and the student's academic studies, future professional aspirations, and/or personal goals. The student's life experience, background, and/or goals suggest the summer experience might be transformative. | It is unclear from the application materials how this project or subject relates to the student's academic studies, future professional aspirations, and/or personal goals. The student's life experience, background, and/or goals suggest the summer experience is unlikely to be transformative. |
| 10. OverallImpression (10points)                  | The application presents a coherent and compelling project, involving a well-qualified student in a high-potential, well-planned endeavor.  | The application presents a sound plan, involving a qualified student in a project with strong potential and a solid plan for execution.  | The application presents a project direction with potential, but the plan lacks detail or is unfeasible.  | The application does not present the potential of the project, nor a viable plan for its execution.   |